

The book was found

Ameritopia: The Unmaking Of America

Synopsis

#1 New York Times bestselling author Mark Levin explores the philosophical basis of America's foundations and the crisis that faces government today. Mark R. Levin has made the most persuasive case for conservatism and against statism in a generation. In this most crucial time, this leading conservative thinker explores the psychology, motivations, and history of the utopian movement, its architects, and its modern day disciples and how the individual and American society are being devoured by it. In Levin's asks, what is this utopian force that both allures a free people and destroys them? In the end, Levin's message is clear: The American republic is in great peril. The people must now choose between utopianism or liberty.

Book Information

Audio CD: 7 pages

Publisher: Simon & Schuster Audio; Unabridged edition (January 17, 2012)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1442349107

ISBN-13: 978-1442349100

Product Dimensions: 5.1 x 0.9 x 5.9 inches

Shipping Weight: 4.8 ounces (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.4 out of 5 stars See all reviews (2,374 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #341,521 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #110 in Books > Books on CD > History > United States #319 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government > Elections & Political Process > Political Parties #352 in Books > Books on CD > Nonfiction

Customer Reviews

Take a look around at the sad state of our nation. In the 100 years since the self-proclaimed "progressive" Woodrow Wilson was President of these United States Americans have slowly but surely been ceding their rights and liberties to the state. The "masterminds" in our government, those who are so cock-sure that they know what is best for the rest of us, have been systemically consolidating their power and building a mammoth bureaucracy designed to control nearly every aspect of our lives. Then in 2008 the American people elected Barack Obama who promised to "fundamentally change America". Obama has taken the "statist" agenda to a whole new level and most Americans have become increasingly alarmed at the direction this country is headed in. The battle lines have been drawn and the 2012 election will no doubt prove pivotal in the ultimate direction our nation will take. Those of us who favor the traditional American values of hard work, freedom of speech and free enterprise are going to have to articulate our case in the best possible way to a wider audience of our fellow Americans in order to win the day. Lawyer, author and syndicated radio talk show host Mark R. Levin has given us all a huge assist in this regard with the release of his powerful new book "Ameritopia: The Unmaking of America". Drawing on the writings of the great philosophers on both ends of the political spectrum Levin provides his readers with a plethora of devastating arguments against the direction Obama and the progressives in both political parties are taking this nation. It is a truly compelling read!

If there is one statement that defines Mark R. Levin's work, it is that America's success is based in liberty and that we must not allow ourselves to fall into tyranny. Of course, no one supports tyranny blatantly and so defending liberty is thought to be easy. But the people who support tyranny don't always do so blatantly. In this book, Levin shows how people throughout the ages have supported tyranny through an ideology called utopianism, and thus ushered in tyranny through "intellectual bankruptcy and dishonesty." In the first part of AMERITOPIA, Levin examines the work of four historical figures, Plato, Thomas More, Hobbes, and Marx. In this treatment, Levin shows how each one promoted what was considered an ideal society and how each one of these ideals is no more than tyranny. In each case, the ideal society contains a highly centralized government which controls the masses through various means--persuasion, deceit, coercion, eugenics, euthanasia--and therefore tears apart the family, community, and faith. In the second part, Levin counters this with a survey of three thinkers that helped introduce liberty to the Western mindset and establish what he calls Americanism--John Locke, Charles de Montesquieu, and Alexis de Tocqueville. Levin shows how each one viewed human beings as autonomous individuals with God-given abilities and rights. With lawyerly precision, Levin details the many examples of how both Locke and Montesquieu influenced the founders of the United States and how Tocqueville spread Americanism to the European culture of the 19th century.

Download to continue reading...

Ameritopia: The Unmaking of America The Body in Pain: The Making and Unmaking of the World Careless Love (Enhanced Edition): The Unmaking of Elvis Presley (Elvis series Book 2) Careless Love: The Unmaking of Elvis Presley Virgil Thomson: The State of Music & Other Writings: Library of America #277 (The Library of America) Everynight Life: Culture and Dance in Latin/o America (Latin America Otherwise) The Courageous Captain America (Marvel: Captain America) (Little Golden Book) Work in Colonial America (Colonial America) The Miracle of America: The Influence of the Bible on the Founding History and Principles of the United States of America for a People of

Ever Thanksgiving 101: Celebrate America's Favorite Holiday with America's Thanksgiving Expert (Holidays 101) America's Original Sin: Racism, White Privilege, and the Bridge to a New America America The Black Point of View - An Investigation and Study of the White People of America and Western Europe and The Autobiography of an American Ghetto Boy, The 1950s and 1960s Impossible Subjects: Illegal Aliens and the Making of Modern America (Politics and Society in Modern America) Impossible Subjects: Illegal Aliens and the Making of Modern America (Politics and Society in Twentieth-Century America) Albion's Seed: Four British Folkways in America (America: a cultural history) Abigail Adams: Letters: Library of America #275 (The Library of America) The Shaping of America: A Geographical Perspective on 500 Years of History, Vol. 2: Continental America, 1800-1867 (Paperback) Crippled America: How to Make America Great Again National Parks of America: Experience America's 59 National Parks (Lonely Planet) Audubon's Elephant: America's Greatest Naturalist and the Making of The Birds of America

Dmca